Our products, designed specifically for the sports world, provide protection from the following financial exposures:

- An athlete's future income in the event of a career ending injury or illness
- A team's contractual obligation to individual players
- A catastrophic accident associated with team travel

Permanent Total Disability

Professional athletes, college players, juniors with highly ranked 'up and coming' status and professional sports team executives need to protect themselves from the dramatic financial impact of a potential career-ending disability. The Sutton Special Risk Professional Sports plan pays a lump sum benefit if the insured person is unable to participate in their own occupation ever again as a result of bodily injury, sickness or disease.

Our professional sports insurance provides unsurpassed coverage for temporary or permanent disability

Temporary Total Disability

Sports teams purchase Temporary Total Disability (TTD) coverage to protect their contractual obligations to their players in the event they are temporarily unable to play but it is also highly effective protection for athletes that do not have guaranteed incomes such as professional golfers and tennis players. The Sutton Special Risk Professional Sports plan offers unique protection in the marketplace with benefit periods extending from one year up to ten years and monthly benefits that can be selected for any amount that is economically justified.

benefit periods that extend up to 5 years

Accidental Death & Dismemberment

Sports teams often travel together, which unfortunately creates the risk of a catastrophic accident. Professional Sports insurance allows teams to provide valuable protection for their players in the event of a catastrophic loss. The product offers a high lump sum benefit in the event of accidental death as well as for loss or loss of use of limbs, hearing and sight. Since the coverage is usually purchased by the team with themselves as the beneficiary, the sum insured is typically equivalent to the player's contract, though asset value is also an option. Coverage is also available on an individual basis.
